Providence building(s) in Hollywood

While continuing construction on its new Halsey office building, Providence is also planning an additional building adjacent to it. This 3rd phase of the project, would be a 62,000 sq. ft, 3 story medical laboratory building, on 44th in the same office park. One concern with the planned building is whether it would affect access or placement of a future Sullivan's Gulch Trail.

Whole Foods opens

Opened Tue. Jan. 12. Full service supermarket on NE 43rd and Sandy, parking on 44th. Deli and food stations. Some nice touches like stocking Laurelwood beer.

Portland Bicycle Plan

The Bureau of Transportation has released an updated version of the "Portland Bicycle Plan for 2030" (www.portlandonline.com/transportation/index.cfm?c=44597)

Download FINAL plan:

<http://www.portlandonline.com/transportation/index.cfm?c=44597&a=279844>

A hearing before City Council to adopt the plan has been set for Thursday, February 4, 2010 at 2:00 p.m.

The key principles laid out in the Portland Bicycle Plan for 2030 are:

Attract new riders

Strengthen bicycle policies

Form a denser bikeway network

Increase bicycle parking

Expand programs to support bicycling

Increase funding for bicycle facilities

Radon gas risk in NE Portland

The Hollywood neighborhood is one many NE Portland neighborhoods with highest potential rating for indoor radon gas in Portland. Recent media coverage could have you worried, but each house is different and you need to test to see if your house is a concern. Open windows and airflow can reduce radon levels in affected rooms.

The Oregonian blog "PDX Green" had a nice write-up with lots of background and resources: http://blog.oregonlive.com/pdxgreen/2008/02/eat_your Greens_radon_hits_clo.html

January is National Radon Action Month!

I bet you never knew this about January. Well, you can read up at the Oregon govt. site: <http://oregon.gov/DHS/ph/rps/radon/>
